

Silence. © Xen.

In response to feminist rebuttals of we are not all militant and hateful women....Not all Nazi's were harmful or brutal to Jews in or out of death camps in WW2 Germany, either. Many worked at risk of torture and death saving persecuted Jews and other races often landing in the same extermination death camps for disposal by captors when captured with those they were helping. But when one hears the term Nazi what immediately comes to mind, ladies? Death camps, genocide, murder, persecution and maybe heroes such as Oskar Schindler and Anne Frank who, perhaps, get honorable mention. Same for slave owners in Pre-Civil War America. Many owners treated and educated their slaves same as family but had to hide that because of laws against doing so; these slaves often fared much better than how modern corporations treat free wage slave employees serving them. Many lawbreakers ran underground railroads helping and rescuing slaves and Native Americans at personal risk of death. Yet, when the issue of slavery and Native American genocide arises what comes to mind? Brutal white supremacy over these persecuted races not those who worked against status quo helping to undermine political and legal injustices or those who died doing so such as John Brown, Abraham Lincoln and many more like them. White people of conscience, politically condemned as lawbreakers, surrendered their lives fighting against social and cultural genocidal injustice. To die for ones convictions is better than living as a mute coward ignoring prejudices. However, one rarely hears of their heroic bravery at all by mainstream politics and media. Slavery and genocide of undesirables in Germany and US was law of the land and those violating it faced summary persecution and death. Their rebellions violated state legislation in both cases! Yet when issue of modern slavery, hate and Nazism arises what comes to mind, ladies? You. Perhaps it is well past time that you policed your kind; silence and doing nothing are consequential actions and an endorsement for status quo - whether [legal] law or not – it is persecution and murder by silence. Allowing militant, angry, hate mongering ‘Feminazism’ to represent you while remaining silent is proxy approval; whether vociferous or silent that remains your support. Silence and doing nothing are actions; all actions have consequences – without exception. You are worse than the Nazis that represent you.

*First they came for the ~~Native Americans~~, and I did not speak out—
Because I was not a ~~Native American~~.*

*Then they came for the ~~Jews~~, and I did not speak out—
Because I was not a ~~Jew~~.*

*Then, they came for the ~~Soldiers and Veterans~~, and I did not speak out—
Because I was not a ~~Soldier or Veteran~~.*

Then they came for you and me—and there was no one left to speak for you ~~or me~~.

Think about that – if you will not speak up for others or fight with us, who will be there for ~~you?~~

Remember, they always dispose of you useful idiots, ~~dead last~~.